Simplify Your Voice Strategy

If your business already uses Microsoft Teams, you're just one step away from turning it into a complete phone system. Orro's Teams Calling service allows you to make and receive external calls directly within Teams — removing the need for outdated PBX hardware, desk phones, or multiple communications apps.

Built on our carrier-grade voice network, our solution offers a secure, scalable, and cost-effective way to consolidate platforms, support hybrid teams, and future-proof your communications.
